Workshop Highlights

The survey report on the state of risk management practices among charities was released by the Charity Council in June 2017.

Key findings include:

- (1) Low appreciation, lack of culture or awareness of the importance and relevance of risk management;
- (2) Most charities do not have a risk management framework to manage their risks;
- (3) Lack of clarity in accountability; and
- (4) Charities tend to focus only on financial risk.

This workshop addresses these short-comings and provides step-by-step implementation guide and explain the key areas including forms and functions that have to be present in an effective Enterprise Risk Management (ERM). It ultimately allows the charities to ensure that they “do the right thing”, and make sure the proper levels of risk taking is articulated and embodied in their activities when pursuing mission and strategic objectives, as well as protecting stakeholders interest.

Aim and Objectives

To identify the kinds of decisions where charities need to manage their risks in a strategic fashion, to review how they approach these decisions, and to offer a conceptual framework that charities can use to develop a more sophisticated and effective approach to their risk-management decisions.
